8.3 Sports Facilities

The Wai Hang Sports Centre, located at Kam Shing Road, provides a wide range of sports facilities for use by students and staff through a booking system for sporting, recreational and leisure purposes. The facilities include an activity room for dancing and table tennis, a fitness room, a multi-purpose classroom, a multi-purpose hall which can be used for badminton, basketball, and volleyball activities, 3 squash courts, an outdoor swimming pool, and two rooftop tennis courts. The Dr. Stephen Hui Sports Hall is another multi-purpose hall located in the David C. LAM Building. This hall can be used for badminton, basketball, dancing, gymnastic, indoor tennis, table-tennis, and volleyball activities.

In addition, students and staff can use the sports facilities at the Joint Sports Centre, which is jointly owned by the City University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong Baptist University and the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. The Centre is located next to the Shaw Campus and has a grass soccer pitch, a synthetic all-weather running track, facilities for field events, four tennis courts, a golf practice area, and a multi-purpose synthetic surface court for five-a-side soccer, volleyball, basketball and handball activities.
