

This prospectus is a guide to applicants for postgraduate studies who intend to enter the University in 2006-2007 academic year. The information given in this prospectus is accurate as of November 30, 2005. As the information may be revised from time to time, the University reserves the right to alter any part of the information contained in this prospectus without prior notice.